

ANI Networks Announces support of the “Hire a Soldier” Program.

It is with great pride that ANI Networks announces the support and sponsorship of the “Hire a Soldier” program for the upcoming CompTel Plus tradeshow in Orlando, Florida.

The Hire a Soldier program was developed by long time Telecom Industry veteran and former career soldier William (Bill) D. Savage. The program helps facilitate the transition of successful military veterans to the civilian workforce.

“The young men and women who have served our country in the military bring a wealth of experience to the civilian workplace. Hard work, long hours, extreme conditions, and a sense of something that is greater than themselves is a fundamental part of each soldier’s, airman’s, Marine’s, and sailor’s military experience.” said program administrator Bill Savage.

“We are incredibly proud to be able to highlight this program to the Telecommunications Industry through the CompTel organization and to assist our long time colleague and friend in what ANI Networks believes to be a wonderful mission,” Said Gary Fry, CEO, ANI Networks.

For more information on the “Hire a Soldier” program please email Bill directly at: getsavage1@msn.com

